Cádiz-Jerez (Andalucia), Spain

The Coast of the Light and, in general, the province of Cádiz is one of the most diverse areas of southern Spain, both in climate and geography. An area that for more than 3000 years has hosted the Phoenicians, Tartars, Romans, Moors, etc. has left us great historical-artistic treasures. Among the cleanest beaches with the highest number of sunshine days per year in all of Europe. Jerez de la Frontera is the home of the famous Andalusian Horse, Sherry wine and the cradle of Flamenco.
