

Cazalla de la Sierra (Seville), Spain

Cazalla de la Sierra (Seville), Spain

Ninety kilometers north of Seville is the second largest town in the Sierra Norte Natural Park, the pretty Cazalla de la Sierra. It boasts one of the best churches in the Sierra Morena, grand mansions and beautiful people. Cazalla is famous for its aniseed-based liqueur (anís) and its rich-tasting cherry brandy (guinda). Try it at any of the local bars, accompanied by one of the area's specialities, spicy or cured sausages (chorizo or salchichón) and hams.

Palacio de San Benito Epoque Classic Superior

Palacio de San Benito, awarded World's Best Rural Chic hotel by Condé Nast Traveler, is an exclusive Hotel in Cazalla de la Sierra, within the northern mountain range - Sierra Norte - of Seville's Province. Staying here gives one the opportunity to relax in an authentic Andalusian palace in natural surroundings, complete with the aromas, light, color and perfect climate of this beautiful area. A nice lodging to discover the traditional countryside of Andalucía, the beauty of its nature, people and traditions. Either horseback or by walking you will find out the hidden southern Spain while enjoying our best hospitality.

Location: Situated in the beautiful village of Cazalla de la Sierra, within the "Sierra Norte" of Seville, only 75Km away from the capital of Andalusia.

Address: Cazalla de la Sierra 41370 Sevilla - Spain Tel. 34 954 883 336
USA Toll Free: 1 866 376 7831 www.poquehotels.com/palaciodesanbenito.html
9 Rooms

