Campeche, Mexico

Campeche is part of the Mayan World. Its archeological sites are more than 1,000 years old. Among them the most famous are Edzna, Chicanna, Ixpuhil and Calakmul. In addition, its colonial history and pirate legend have given the City of Campeche a peculiar personality, with its forts and bastions that were built to protect the old city. Some of these unique structures have been converted into museums.
