

Forte dei Marmi, Italy

Since the Fifties, Forte dei Marmi, located in the Tuscan seaboard, has been the summer salon of business people, and artists. Well-known for the soft contrasts of the sea with its long stretches of beach and its fascinating landscape dominated by the Apuan Alps with their rugged forms and bare faces of the famous marble quarries. The countryside surrounding Forte dei Marmi has a historical heritage to be discovered; charming villages perched atop hills and beautiful alpine pastures. Forte dei Marmi is 30 minutes from The Cinque Terre, one of the most unspoilt Coastlines of the Mediterranean.
